Men Are Religious Ants Are Foolish—and Men
Kidnaping and Torture
The Poor Indians
By Arthur Brisbane

EVERY event has its side; every evil its good.
Emerson said it. British Tories believe it. The attack on religion in Russia has created intense feeling in Britain.
If Premier MacDonald's Labor government refuses to break off relations with Russia, it will probably be driven from power.

Men and nations, with their radio, movies and other interesting things, may seem to lose interest in religion. But such an attack as Russia makes on established beliefs shows that religion retains its hold on the human race.

Dr. Dittmar, who studies animal and insect life, will broadcast, by greatly magnifying sound, noises made by ants in their colonies, working, celebrating, etc.

Strange is insect life. Among katydids there are 20 males for every female. This will interest women, for the katydid is one of the noisiest of insects.
The males make all that racket.
"Ants," says Dr. Dittmar, "are sometimes make fools of themselves."

"Tiny males and blind little defenseless beetles pat the ants with their feet and then the ants pat them."

Not so different from human beings that have money. Syn-cophants flatter them. "Put them with compliments, then they feed the syncopeants, and sometimes let them marry their daughters."

Chicago police hold seven men and one lady, accused of conspiring to kidnap, torturing them to extort money.
Theodore Kopelman, head of an insurance company, identifi-fied the kidnapers. The lady, his former wife, had "kissed him, he would be easy."

He obeyed orders and paid what threatened with red hot iron.

Police investigators attribute six other "torture kidnaping" cases to the same gang and the prosecuting attorney says he will have them all sent to the electric chair. Death is the punishment for kidnaping in Illinois.

That seems a little severe, and the capital punishment is a little harsh.

Kidnaping, with torture, is also barbarous.

From Devil's Lake, North Dakota, comes the sad story of Sioux Indians that drink anti-frase mixture for the sake of its alcohol.

It was the wrong kind.
Jerome Oneshone, Mike Good-house and two other Indians, all dead, three more expected to die. They drank at a dance, which adds a touch of sadness.

Capt. Rickensbacker took off flying with authority. In the war he flew after many German planes and they did not make flying after him.

General Motors, most intelligently, has secured the co-operation of Capt. Rickensbacker in its flying enterprises.

He says that within ten years
there will be regular air travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 10 hours. Slow rail service will be as much out of date as the stage coach is now.

And that is no exaggeration.

The motto of 1940 will be:
"Get there in a hurry by air or see every foot of your way your leisure, by motor."

Flying offers a new field and a wide sky to courageous young women.

Ellen Smith, a small, young woman, with a big heart, went up in her monoplane more than 20,000 feet. Fainting at that altitude, she fell with her plane several thousand feet. Then she came to and landed safely, having lost a new balance when she went one mile higher than any woman had ever flown.

Somebody took Mrs. A. K. W.
Gibson's husband, the salary for $100,000 dollars, the jury gave her $500,000.

Our property laws would be solved if a million other wives could do as well.
Many of them could. And lives themselves on making an excellent bargain.

JURIST LAD IN WEST ARLINGTON

Thousands See Body at Capital Before Services at All Souls Church

Washington, March 11.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, the body of William Howard Taft was buried at Arlington cemetery with military ceremony.

Washington, March 11 (AP).—Under the high dome of the nation's Capitol, William Howard Taft received today from the people whom he served a final tribute before the funeral services in All Souls' Church and burial in Arlington national cemetery.

For nearly two hours the body lay on a catafalque in the center of the spacious rotunda, while those in all stations in life passed for a last glance at the leader who as President and chief justice had endeared himself to the nation with his generous personality. It was estimated that more than 60,000 passed the bier.

It was high noon as the casket was borne from the Capitol building. As it passed through the east door the notes of a huge band, the military escort on the flanks, snapped to attention. The crowd that followed the procession approached the church, where Mr. Taft was interred.

Urges Ban on Sunday Schools

The abolition of Sunday schools was advocated by Rev. Phillips Oggood of Minneapolis in a noonday sermon preached at Trinity Church today.

"Sunday schools divide the family," contended Rev. Oggood. "We should have services that appeal to both parents and children and bring them together in common worship."

WED CARRENA? WELL, NOT YET

London, March 11 (AP).—Miss Emilia Tennant smiled prettily and emotionally today when told that Primo Carnera had denied they were engaged.

"Will Mr. Carnera know best," she said. "We are only friends, say."

When asked directly, however, whether she really was engaged to Primo, the dark-eyed girl was explicit in the negative. "No," she replied, "I am not, and will you all people say?"

But with another smile she added: "Not yet."

Stalled Car Halts Traffic in Subway

Service through the Tremont at subway line was delayed at the station today when a two-car train from Kenmore station bound for Lechmere, was stalled between Park at and Kenmore.

The train was broken through by a broken front end. It was stalled for about fifteen minutes, but service over the subway line was affected for about 20 minutes in both directions.

Where the train was stalled, many persons, after a short wait, left the subway to walk to work.

William J. Locke, Novelist, Very Ill

Philadelphia, March 11 (AP).—William J. Locke, the novelist, who has been seriously ill for some time, was said today to be "as satisfactory as possible."

He probably will undergo an operation, the nature of which was not revealed, some time during the week.

Mr. Locke was brought here from Cannes for surgical observation.

Several Days Warm Weather Forecast

Bostonians will enjoy warm weather for several days, according to the official forecaster who said today temperatures will be above 50 for the rest of the week.

The normal maximum here for this date is 54, but at 4 p. m. today the mercury had risen to 47 and still rising.

The minimum here today was 40 at 5 a. m. There may be showers tonight.

TWO FINED IN SUNDAY SPORT TEST CASE

Promoter and Player Fined After a Basketball Game Indoors at Norwood

The validity of the Sunday sports law is to be tested in a sports court as the result of the finding guilty today in Dedham district court of Walter Burke of Norwood, secretary of the Labor Sports Union of America, for the promotion of an indoor basketball game at Norwood on February 23.

Burke was fined $50 and expelled, filling a bond of $200. Alvin H. Harker of Norwood, charged with being part in the game, was fined $25 and also expelled.

The appeal will take up to the Superior Court. If the decision of the district court is upheld, Burke and his associates may be expelled to the Superior Court.

Torvald Lybeck and Arnold Mark, who were charged with being part in the game, were fined $25 and also expelled.

The game was played in defiance of town officials who had received a permit when they learned it was to be indoors, contrary to the Sunday sports law.

The Labor Sports Union of America is a section of the "Red Sports International." The tennis were the Tricky A. of Norwood and the Taites A. of Brooklyn.

Female Pong Weak From Hunger Strike

Paris, March 11 (AP).—Weakness to a state of exhaustion, Madame Hanne, formerly editor-in-chief of the Gauche du Travail and who is known as the female Pong of France, entered the twenty day of her hunger strike in the Paris jail today.

She is awaiting trial for aiding and abetting the hunger strike as a protest against the examining magistrate's manner of handling her case. She is said to be nearly blind and deaf.

The financial scandal involving Mme. Hanne could all Europe.

New Waldorf Plans Own Parking Space

New York, March 11 (AP).—The new Waldorf-Astoria hotel is to contain its own parking space. A 90-foot private driveway will run through the hotel. Ground floor space of 15,000 square feet will be utilized for motor cars. The old Waldorf originally used 7000 square feet for a car garage.

HUB FANS HEAR BYRD'S HELLO OVER RADIO

Explorer Talks Across 10,000 Miles From Station in Distinct New Zealand

At times with startling distinctness, and again interfered with by static and rebounding signals, the 10,000-mile radio conversation between Admiral Richard E. Byrd of Boston and his friends in the United States, was heard by thousands in the Hub today.

Admiral Byrd was in the studio of Station 4YA at Dunedin, New Zealand, while the American and the two-way conversation was at 8:45 p. m. Station WGY.

From the standpoint of a listener, the conversation was the full conversation, but the two-way was disappointing, but radio engineers consider the two-way test speech making.

Greater Boston listeners heard Admiral Byrd's greetings through Station WGY and WEEI, which were two of 60 stations in National Broadcasting Co. hookup.

Byrd's voice and those of his companions were heard in clear tones. The voices were the voices of the Schenck brothers.

These were Adolph S. Schenck, publisher of the New York Times, and Martin P. Schenck, general manager of broadcasting of the General Electric Co. and Clyde Warner, a General Electric engineer.

It was 7:30 a. m. in Greater Boston and 12:30 a. m. in New Zealand when the power of Schenck today's short-wave transmitter was turned on and broadcast to American listeners not only the new Zealand voices but the voices emitted from their own transmitter after they had made a circuit of the globe.

Luther Is in Schacht's Job

Berlin, March 11 (AP).—Hans Luther, former chancellor, who played a conspicuous part in the building up of post-war Germany, was unanimously elected president of the Reichsbank today.

He succeeds Dr. Hjalmar Schacht who resigned last week because of dissatisfaction with the final form of the Young Plan. The Reichstag today gave approval to a vote of 251 to 174.

Boxer Jailed for Having Revolver

Lawrence, March 11 (AP).—Terry Deane, 23, of Haverhill, who boxes under the name of "Big Boy," was sentenced today to 30 months in jail today for carrying a revolver without a permit.

5 MEE DEATH HERO PRIEST'S AMID SHARKS ROBES AFIRE

Veracruz, Mexico, March 11 (AP).—One man out of a crew of six escaped death when the fishing smack Delfinella foundered in a storm a few miles off this port.

Carlos Avila, the survivor, said that a giant wave overturned the craft, throwing the crew into the water, in which sharks and barracudas were playing.

Avila said he personally saw two of his struggling companions devoured by the fish.

100 Gallons of Rum Seized in Somerville

The largest seizure made by the Somerville liquor squad in the Gold Coast district since the State police discontinued their surveillance there was made today when 100 gallons of alcohol were taken from a house in Horace St.

Charles J. Sharkey, who led the raid, believed the place was a storehouse for alcohol. State police patrolled the district for about a year after big raids there, discontinuing this duty several months ago.

New York Broker Uses Bullet to Die

New York, March 11 (AP).—Arthur L. Bell, 34, a member of a stock brokerage firm, today shot and killed himself in his home.

Business associates said he was of an extremely nervous temperament and had suffered from mental depression for several months.

LETTER SAYS 'LAY OFF' IN GARRETT INQUIRY

Trail of Bank Accounts May Lead to Philadelphia; Startling Testimony Forecast

Important developments today in the investigation of Oliver B. Garrett, former patrolman, were as follows:

1.—Indications that persons hitherto unmentioned will be implicated as principals when the hearings resume tomorrow morning at 10:30.

2.—The prospect of a surprise being sprung by the attorney general and his aides.

3.—Letters received by the attorney general warning him to "lay off Garrett."

4.—The trail of the Garrett bank accounts leads possibly to Philadelphia.

Attorney-General Warner and Special Assistant Attorney-General Damon E. Hall today refused to make any statement about evidence in the Garrett case, but it was learned they were carefully guarding names of prominent persons expected to be drawn into the inquiry.

The introduction of these names is expected to startle the city.

Witnesses to the names of those involved were the State House, but no definite information was obtained.

Another report was that the trial of Garrett, bank accounts, which have been referred to in the State House, but no definite information was obtained.

The authorities were said to be interested in a report that Garrett has had interests in Philadelphia.

Dr. Frederick W. O'Brien, Boston star X-ray expert, who made the pictures of Garrett's fractured skull, is expected to be the first witness when the hearings resume.

Out of respect for former President Taft, all work was suspended today in the State House between 2 and 3 p. m. the funeral hour.

Atty.-Gen. Warner has received several threatening letters in connection with the investigation.

One letter in particular, received today, was said to be from a person who said he was a friend of Garrett's.

Atty.-Gen. George D. Louis said that letters would be ignored and that the investigation would go on.

"Our job is to get into it fully," he said. "To bring out every scrap of evidence without fear or favor."

Atty.-Gen. Warner issued a statement in which he announced he had not said he would call a grand jury.

"I have never at any time said that report must be had to know of some other county," the statement said.

TAFT'S BODY SEEN BY THOUSANDS IN ROUTING OF CAPITAL

ADRESSES, CHILDREN, WIFE

Jurist's Remains Removed to Church and Then to the Cemetery at Arlington

A few lines of Scripture, and said a prayer. The organ played the supplicating notes of "Adele With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light."

That was all. There was no funeral oration.

Some on a rumbling artillery caisson from the house on Wyomington ave., where he spent his last days, the flag-draped casket was placed in state in the Capitol rotunda shortly before 10 a. m.

Long lines of those who loved him already stood waiting under sudden skies outside. Inside, great floral pieces transformed the gloomy rotunda under the arching dome as the long lines passed by the bier in tribute.

ALL CLASSES AT BIER

They came from every class of the citizenry with whose destiny the life of the departed had been so closely intertwined for four decades. They were of the springtime and the winter of the mountains-top of attainment and the valley of adversity. While his fellow citizens thus claimed him for a time the church in his home, the former President of the United States, the ceremonies there, planning to go to the church before the body was to arrive for burial.

IN ROBES OF OFFICE

When the casket was in place, the American flag which draped it was drawn partly back, and the upper half of the casket shown.

Those who passed by, in two double file, saw dimly framed in black a face lined with the trial and sorrow of a long and full life. Only a trace of the old smile remained. The features were drawn by the marks of deathly struggle.

The pallor of death lay strange, for a countenance which men had been so accustomed to see filled with the smiling light of joy.

The departed President and chief justice lay in his office in the robes of his judicial office, falling in gleamed folds about his head.

His face was turned slightly to one side, so that most of those who passed saw him in profile.

SOLONS IN LINE

Marched into line by Capitol police, the throngs moved by the casket at a steady pace, sometimes almost at a quickstep. It was estimated that 75 passed to the minute.

Yet the waiting crowd on the plaza outside, recruited constantly, did not appear to be diminishing.

In the line were many members of Congress. One of the first was Representative John Bryan of Florida. Her father, William Bryan, was a close friend of Taft.

There were many children, some of them in arms, and some in the first and last time on the countenance of the former President.

A group of little boys, dirty and unkempt, and wet, shivered and wept. Among them were several little negroes, some of whom were not tall enough to look into the casket, and a big Capitol policeman lifted one of them.

In the procession, small groups crowded, heavy-lidded, gloomy and run-down beings. Some of the couples, obviously from the rural districts, clung to each other in a dazed state of fear.

Next to the red cross of the Supreme Court justices, beside the model of the new Supreme Court building, stood a wreath six feet in diameter—the joint offering of the entire diplomatic corps.

It was of yellow roses, white lilies and orchids.

Pastor Says Taft's Big Work Was Saving Woman

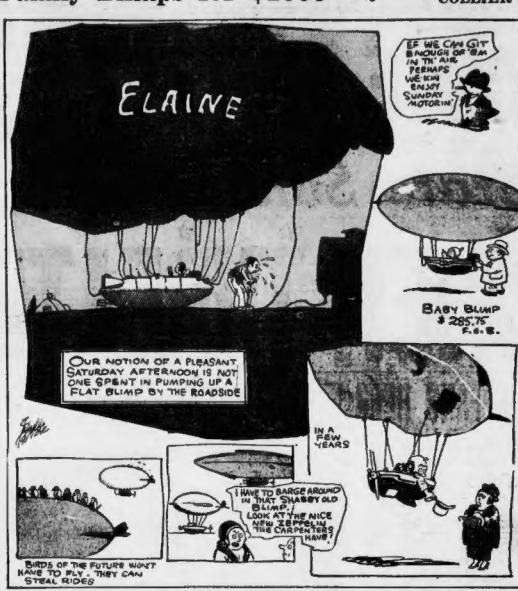

Tribute to the late President Taft was paid today by Dr. Simon P. W. Drew, pastor of the Episcopal Community Baptist Institutional Church, Washington, D. C., and New York, who spoke in Church of the Incarnation, Lynn, next Sunday. He said that among the most important acts performed by Taft as President was coming to the life imprisonment of the death sentence of Mattie Louisa, condemned to be hanged in Washington. Dr. Drew said he headed a petition signed by 50,000 persons to save the woman.

FORBIDS BIG MONEY BACKS BOOTLEGGERS

Declares They Locate Near Dearborn in Order to Show Up His Town

New York, March 11 (AP)—The New York World today quotes Henry Ford as saying that the big money interests of New York are back of the bootlegging in this country, and that liquor interests are concentrating near his factories in Dearborn, Mich., because they know he is a dry.

The World said a staff representative to Dearborn to establish it explains how much comfort and prosperity the 10th amendment has brought to Dearborn. The mission was inspired by Ford's talk that the bootleggers could finance these big liquor deals themselves.

"Do you think I don't know who is back of bootlegging in this country?" Ford is quoted.

"It is the big money interests in New York. You don't think that the bootleggers could finance these big liquor deals themselves?"

The triumph was Anna's, however, when she disappeared. Inquiries at the school revealed she had not returned there for the street where much money was made.

"Prohibition can be enforced because the bootleggers are so numerous. I simply won't let men work here if they drink."

Nab Restaurant Man for Holdup

Lawrence, March 11—"Bob" Thomas, restaurant worker in Hialeah, Fla., who came here only a week ago, went back to Brooklyn, N. Y., after being nabbed by police.

Thomas was arrested in a holdup in the restaurant, but denied complicity in the holdup. He was released on $1000 bail.

WOMAN SAYS BIG SCHOOL GIRL IN ROB HOTEL

Weymouth Miss Fied Home When Scored by Sister Who Wearing Short Skirts

She was alone, unharmed and unafraid of whatever life might hold for a child in a big city, and she had slept the sleep of the untroubled conscience when found shortly afterward she was on her way home, willing to return to her room in the sixth grade of the Hunt school, attended in a skirt that met the approval of a "big sister."

Anna quarreled with her sister, Coralyn, 25, at lunch yesterday. Anna is larger for her age and Coralyn thought she should wear a skirt that hung below her knees.

Anna had said she would wear a skirt that hung below her knees. Coralyn triumphed and "little sister" donned a longer skirt.

"Yes, I'm hungry, but I had only 25 cents to spend. I was saved for tonight," she said. She had paid $1.50 in advance for her room.

"I didn't have much money when I left home and I asked a man on the street who had money to lend. He sent me to this one."

"I was in trouble and I've been reading it all morning."

Pastor Says 2-Mile Men

The man who goes two miles with a friend when asked to go one, is the man the world needs, said Rev. Karl Relland, rector of St. George's Church, New York, in a noon address today at King's Chapel.

"We want more Esaus, not Jacobs," he said. "We want two-mile men who are willing to help when you are down, give you every encouragement, men who have your interests at heart and are willing to make sacrifices in your behalf."

White foreign flag on consulate here flew at half staff today in honor of William Howard Taft.

The navy yard boomed a salute at half hour intervals, beginning at sunrise, to the revered ex-President.

The army tribute locally was a 21-gun salute fired at Fort Banks, Weymouth, during the funeral hour, half-hour salutes having been fired yesterday.

The court guard joined in the tribute with halloos and guns at saluting stations and on vessels. Various army posts throughout New England were included in the War Department's orders for the national salute this afternoon.

FEDERAL COURTS TRIBUTE

At King's Chapel, where generations of Bostonians have gathered, the Boston Unitarian Association held a service at the house of the funeral, conducted by Rev. John T. Gray, D. D., of the King's Chapel, and Rev. Abbot Peterson of the First Unitarian Church of Brooklyn.

The local federal district courts and circuit court of appeals today formally adjourned until tomorrow.

A large number of lawyers, together with men and girls from federal building offices, were present at the ceremony.

The lowering of foreign flags was by order of the various consuls. Edward J. Gray of Great Britain, Baron Kurt von Toppelberg of Germany, C. Joseph Flannery of France, Agostino Ferrante of Italy and a representative of several lesser nations.

HARVARD FLAGS LOWERED

The United States Census Bureau today ordered flags on Harvard University ordered flags to be lowered to half staff for 30 days as a mark of respect.

Charles Edward Park, minister of the First Church in Weymouth, was in charge of the flag lowering ceremony.

The King's Chapel, which is the home of the Boston Unitarian Association, also lowered its flags.

William H. Lewis, who was president of the United States bar at Boston to assistant attorney-general, was in charge of the flag lowering ceremony.

Navy's Guns Sound Requiem Here as Taft Is Buried at Arlington

Every half-hour since 6:58 o'clock this morning the guns of the U. S. S. Southern have boomed a requiem for ex-President Taft as the nation said its long farewell today to the jurist at the capital, All Souls' Church and the cemetery in Arlington, Va. Guns were fired similarly nationwide. (Staff photo.)

The arrow points to the spot in a beautiful corner of Arlington National Cemetery, where the grave of William Howard Taft is located. Nearby is shown the grave of Robert T. Lincoln, who was the last surviving son of Abraham Lincoln. These are the only graves in this section of the cemetery. (International Newsreel photo.)

Burned by Powder

"Lighting some photographers" "lighted powder" in the yard of Charles Cheevers, 12, was seriously burned by the powder. The boy was removed to the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary for treatment.

AUTOIST KILLS COP WITH CAR

New York, March 11 (AP)—A policeman was deliberately run down and killed today by a speeding motorist whom he attempted to stop. The driver escaped after another policeman had fired a bullet through his windshield and pursued him several blocks.

Witnesses said Patrolman Joseph J. Scott saw a large car approaching at a high rate of speed. He stepped into the roadway and signalled the driver to stop. Without slackening speed the motorist veered to the left and the policeman, reaching his down.

The officer's body was caught by the bumper. The car crossed the car across the street after dragging Scott 50 feet and with a jerk of the steering wheel threw the policeman clear and sped away.

Patrolman John Sullivan signalled the car to stop when it sped by him two blocks away from the scene of the accident. He fired a shot as the fugitive car dashed on.

Train Is Blocked as Locusts Swarm

Tulsa, Okla., March 11 (AP)—They have real bugs here and now. A swarm of locusts blocked a railroad for two hours at Tulsa. The wheels of the locomotive spun in vain. Not until the locusts decided to move on could the train proceed.

Condition of Mrs. Lowell Unchanged

The condition of Mrs. A. Lawrence Lowell, who is critically ill at her home on Quincy st., Cambridge, is reported as unchanged. Attending physicians have marveled at the stamina of the wife of the Harvard president, but believe that her strength is failing.

Victory for Free Press in Ohio Lauded by Lawyers

Approve Overruling by Ohio
Appellate Court of Terms
Imposed on Editors

DECLARING that freedom of the press is the very foundation of American liberty and should be carefully guarded against encroachment, leading members of the Boston bar voice their approval of a recent legal victory in Ohio.

In the Ohio case, the Appellate Court overruled the decision of a Cuyahoga County common pleas judge who sentenced two Cleveland editors to 30 days in jail and fined them $500 each because they criticized his official conduct. By order of the higher court the sentences and fines were reversed.

Louis B. Heister, editor of Cleveland Press, and Carl K. Matson, chief editorial writer of the same newspaper, were held in contempt of court by Judge Luther H. Walther because of an editorial criticizing Walther for granting an injunction to racing interests.

Among those who comment favorably here on the action of the higher court in overruling Judge Walther's decision are Atty-Gen. Joseph E. Warner, Dist-Atty William J. Foley of Suffolk County, Corporation Counsel Samuel Silverman, Atty. Henry P. Fielding, and Frederick M. J. Sheehan, former assistant district attorney of Suffolk County.

Atty. John J. Cummings, former candidate for Democratic nomination for governor.

Their comments follow:

All Open to Criticism

ATTY-GEN. JOSEPH E. WARNER: There is no reason why the decision of a public official should not be criticized.

Dist-Atty. WILLIAM J. FOLEY of Suffolk County:

Of course no judge or other official should feel that he is above criticism. To say that all the acts of any human being are above criticism is every part of the law. The only ground on which the Ohio court could have held the judge was that he had held the judge. There has been only one man since the creation of this world to whom that honor is due. Any reasonable public official who admits that he cannot be right in all things, and the man is not reasonable who objects to honest criticism.

The decision of the Ohio court is clearly the only proper one at which it could have arrived and sustains that long of decisions upon which freedom of the press and free speech depends.

For Just Criticism

CORPORATION COUNSEL SAMUEL SILVERMAN—1 am a firm believer in the principle that the public have the right to know just what the courts are doing and whether the conduct of our justice is proper and in keeping with law.

I think we are all in agreement that when a matter is before a judge for judicial determination his decision should be overruled should his judgment be interfered with by newspaper comment or by the conduct of members of the bar or the laity.

Only Honest Decision

ATTY. FREDERICK M. J. SHEEHAN:

There is no doubt that judges should have the power to punish persons who interfere with their duties while a case is under way but once a decision has been rendered, a judge should be open to honest criticism. I believe the Appellate Court of Ohio rendered the only honest decision it could in overruling the Common Pleas Court judge. It was ridiculous for the lower court to render the decision it did.

The Needs of March

Health authorities have repeatedly warned the average that March is the danger month. Too much festivity all through the winter—too much rich food—too many late hours tend to lower physical resistance.

March is the month above all others when we need plenty of oranges and gratitude in our diet. They contain valuable vitamins which we particularly require at this time.

Keep your refrigerator well supplied with these delicious fruits and serve them on sparkling beds of pure Boston Ice. Or if you prefer the juice, serve it in tall frosty glasses surrounded by cascades of shaved ice.

SUE BONDSMEN FOR $75,000 BY FORMER L.A.W.

Worcester, March 11 (AP).—Claiming that because of acts of certain of its officers and employees, who were bonded, it was exposed to loss $65,000, the Superior Credit Corp. of this city has filed a suit for $75,000 against the Metropolitan Casualty Insurance Co. of New York.

The Superior Credit Corp. was formerly the L. A. W. Acceptance Corporation and it had "accidents" in suit also every town and city in the section of state. It alleges that the terms of a bond which it purchased from the defendant company were such that it is entitled to recover the losses that it has out.

The officers and employees whose acts are alleged to have caused the losses and the amounts the credit corporation says it should be able to recover are as follows:

Samuel Soffit, the former treasurer $25,000; Victor M. Fink, vice-president $25,000; George P. Hays, once president $25,000; Duryea A. Rosenthal, $25,000.

Real estate values are growing steadily in Worcester. If the corporation has its way, it will have a large percentage of the value of the land in the city.

HAITI EXECUTIVE DEFIES HOOVER COMMISSION

Open conflict developed today between the Hoover commission investigating conditions in Haiti and Louis Dorno, president of the island republic.

Hoover's commission, which is headed by J. Edgar Hoover, is in Haiti to investigate the conditions in the island republic.

The commission, it was known, was President of Haiti and would do so as planned.

The commission, it was known, was President of Haiti and would do so as planned.

This ultimatum, if issued, would virtually withdraw all protection from Haiti, whose aid would be endangered, so intense is public feeling.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

It is not just the pain of a corn, but the danger of infection that should make you avoid cutting a corn.

"THE SHADOW" which pursues us all

[John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its slim, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the slim, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco
—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED."
Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quick "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Moderate! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Theft of Diamond Bracelet Brings Suit For Slander

Lady Bettine Fayne Accuses Olivia Mansfeld, who Sues for Damages —Mayfair Hints at Jealousy

OLIVIA MANSFELD

BRETT ARDEN

LADY BETTINE

Mayfair has a new sensation, involving women of note—Olivia Mansfeld, only daughter of Sir Leith Mansfeld, yesterday amazed London society by bringing suit for slander against Lady Bettine Fayne, social arbiter. Lady Bettine has refused to retract her accusation that Miss Mansfeld stole from her a highly valued bracelet of diamonds and emeralds, said to be a gift to her from Brett Arden, the noted tennis player, who has been seen both in the mansion of Lady Bettine and in the tucked-away little studio of Miss Mansfeld. This is the theme of a new Cosmopolitan serial, "THE BRACELET," by Robert Hichens. We have told it as a use show how human and close to life are the novels and stories Cosmopolitan publishes. It is because of its Editor's art of mirroring so faithfully the drama of life that Cosmopolitan is of unfailing interest to people who live and think. Begin "THE BRACELET," in April Cosmopolitan, now on sale.

SHAW'S VIEWS on BOOZE

George Bernard Shaw rarely talks about American affairs. He has spoken now, however. Forcefully, brilliantly, he tells us what he thinks of America's fight to abolish booze. He gives us, too, his own idea of the way to get rid of drink. It is Cosmopolitan, of course, that prints this thought-provoking, talk-provoking article.

IRVIN S. COBB

"The Frenchman had Faith, the Italian had Hope, and the Spaniard had Charity"—yet they were after all a trio of murderers trying to bluff fate. In "Faith, Hope and Charity" Irvin S. Cobb has given us a story that ranks with his best work.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

When Captain Blood comes in sight of a Spanish galleon loaded with treasure, there occurs as pretty a piece of sea fighting as has ever been put in a story by Rafael Sabatini.

LOUIS BROMFIELD

In his new novel, "SHATTERED GLASS," has just raised the curtain on his drama of intrigue, adventure and romance—in the lives of a dozen interesting people of high and low degree in New York.

E. BARRINGTON

who interpreted "The Divine Lady" and "Glorious Apollo" understands modern people too. In "He Knew Women" she tells what happened to a gay deceiver.

P. G. WODEHOUSE

whose inimitable characters appear every month in Cosmopolitan, presents this month an Irish water spaniel—an open-air flapper—Bertie—Tuppy—Jeeves—combined they make a story full of chuckles.

I PROPHECY that GEORGE V WILL BE the LAST KING of ENGLAND

The Countess of Warwick descends from Oliver Cromwell. Speaking from her assured position in English court life, she keenly analyzes British life today. She not only tells you why she feels that King George V will be the last king of England—she also shows why the Prince of Wales would make an admirable First President.

Daring Story of Eternal Love Triangle

Ardeth Carroll, beauty, lives in the drab home of her Aunt Stella. Neil Burke, downstairs, claims Ardeth as his. She is uncertain. She yearns for a fuller life. She quarrels with her cousin, Bet, whose room she shares. Ardeth sees the man of her dreams, Ken Gleason. Neil is furiously jealous.

CHAPTER 4
ARDETH hated Monday mornings—hated them with the hopeless rebellion which urticaria and discord could always rouse in her. After the comparative leisure of Sunday, Mondays were feverish and tense.

The shrilling voice of the alarm clock stalling through sleep. Aunt Stella's strident tones. "How many times have I got to tell you to get up? If you'd get in at a decent hour at night you wouldn't be so dog-tired next day."

Discord. There was always discord on Monday morning.

"You've been wearing my dress again!"
"What for? Don't you have a dress of your own?"
"I don't have a dress of my own!"
"You don't have a dress of your own?"

Coach Stubbs Denies Harvard Hockey Team Is Stale

WIDE OPEN TO WITNESS FINAL GAME

THAT Harvard's hockey team is far from stale and will give Yale another hard battle tomorrow was the opinion of Coach Joe Stubbs, as he sent his team into their final workout today.

Fearing that a last minute injury to one of the players would wreck what little chance Harvard has of coping the series, Stubbs ordered his players to confine their practice to passing.

Despite the fact that Junior Stubbs, the hardest shot on the team will miss the crimson tomorrow, the rest of the Crimson seemed optimistic about the outcome of the series.

The final game, from all appearances, will be a duplicate of the old 10-minute try at New Haven last week. Harvard has nothing to lose and everything to gain by playing wide open hockey and that will be the program.

Harvard Team Best When Playing Wide Open Game

The Crimson are in luck when it tries to beat Yale by playing a close checking, defensive game. But when the team from across the Charles plays their natural game of throwing cautions to the winds, they are much better off. The Yale it will testify to this afternoon.

Harvard's starting line in the deciding battle will have Harry Wood center, Putnam on right wing, and Bobbie Gidens on left. The second forward line which comes in when the clock clicks off the final minute, will have Johnny Cronin at center, Johnny Cronin on right and Del Everett at left wing.

In the opinion of the Harvard coach, it will be the Crimson's world of good to be underdog in the traditional college hockey game off tomorrow night. In their first game, Stubbs points out, this is the case, and Harvard's record was not unquestionably due to the fact that they were not "bothered with nerves."

Tiny Thompson Has Helped Game of Nardy Ellis

Everything depends on how tiny Ellis goes in the coming game. "Unquestionably, Ellis has shown great improvement over his first season performance, due to his coaching he is getting from my Thompson of the Yale team. Those slow rolling shots, which tend to paralyze Ellis about mid-way, are giving him no bother now. If he can remember to clear, well as stop, the puck tomorrow, Harvard has a good chance of holding a Yale.

On the eve of the crucial game, Harvard learned with regret that the Yale forward, would probably be an alternate for Frank Joe. That makes matters just so much the worse for the Crimson, whose chances right now are paper thin.

Capacity Crowd Will See Crucial Ice Contest

A capacity crowd will trek into the Garden again for the final game. Carroll Getchell announced today that there was no appreciable difference in the amount of seats sold to customers in the two previous sections of the Garden. Reserve seats donated for by persons entitled to them from the second game will go on sale at the Harvard Alumni at 12 today. The remaining "purchased" (should) will be sold to the general public along with 5000 rush seats the day of the game.

GOOD GOLF

By GEORGE BENTLEY

Joe's Greatest Teacher

It is impossible to make good golf swings until you can relax and it is impossible to relax until you can make good golf swings. This is a golfing truism, and a sort of truism of golfing development out of which a good many players never escape.

How is it going to be possible, then, you might ask, for you to make good golf swings? Golf is a reaction. It is a reaction from golfers' common sense, which means that of the three general lines to be followed in the accomplishment of a good golf game, the mental line will be first and predominant.

There is more to the thinking side of golf than there is in the mechanical side, the action of course, but the detail of muscular action in making the swing.

Most players struggling along become too immersed in their own mechanical details, only to discover that this is an unending stream of them, each one leading to still more details of the details. The golfer who enters into these details soon finds that he can neither relax nor make good swings. He need not be defeated, however. His reaction simply has taken a wrong direction.

Giants Miss Terry and Lindstrom

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 11 (AP)—The New York Giants are in for one of the worst seasons in their history.

Another said they find their hitting eyes. John McGraw is a bit peeved over the weak stickwork his team has displayed so far.

The Giants got only nine hits in their first game with the Houston Astros and were blanked for seven innings by a left pitcher. They made only 12 hits in two games with the Chicago White Sox.

The absence of Freddy Lindstrom and Bill Terry has been a big factor in the team's lack of punch.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, never used to set much store by exhibition game victories, but he's changed his viewpoint this year. Robby really is eager to win as many spring training games as possible because of the effect on his team's morale. With Glen Wright in shape and furnishing the spark for the infield, Robby thinks the Robins really will go somewhere this year.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Max Bishop, convalescent second baseman of the Athletics, who checked in here several days late, confided to his teammates today the mystery of Al Simmons' swollen ankles. Simmons still remains at Hot Springs, where Bishop, who was at the Springs, said his legs were in fine condition, but that he would remain away until most of the A's exhibition games are over, as he dislikes Southern climates.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Another pennant for the Cubs, with the Giants and Pirates fighting it out for runner-up position at the Pruitts, was a first division berth, in the way of the National League campaign.

"It's a beautiful thing," said a man who was at the game, "but I don't know how to explain it. There's no way to beat Philie. He has a real kick full of power and determination. We should make the other clubs hurry this year, with the possibility of giving the Giants and Pirates a good battle."

the boot. The fans were in an uproar most of the time as Monte Allen punched it out.

The rest of the card also was good, which made everybody happy. The fight was over by the time the fight was over. The Griffith-Friedman game at the Garden the other night and the Monte-Alton fight tended to help conditions in the state racket.

MONTIE's driving right-hand body blows and fine lightning were what looked Allen. The latter was a real dynamite in his right-hand smash.

But when the youthful Allen got in close he couldn't fight at all. Monte then pumped short left and right-hand blows to the body and Allen was up in a heartbeat.

The first round was even, while the second, third and fourth rounds went to Monte. Two right-hand socks to the chin gave Allen the honor in the fifth round.

Monte then went out front again and kept the margin until his tenth frame when Allen captured the honor. The ninth was Monte's biggest round. He drove Allen back under a heavy barrage of blows. At times Joe would break away from clinches and rip crashing left hooks to the face and Allen was weary when the bell rang. He was in a tight position, but then rallied in the final heat.

Phil Richards Scores Victory Over Nadeau

PHIL RICHARDS won the decision over two rounds in the six-round semifinal. It was a slashing mix. This bout was originally billed for eight rounds, but was cut to six heats so that the referee could enter the ring by 10 o'clock as is required by the rules of the Boxing Commission.

Leddie Baker won by Ed Peterson after two rounds. Peterson suffered an injury to one of his legs and was unable to do more than fight the first round.

Up Gibson stopped Donald McKinnon in three seconds when the latter had a big gash opened on his lower lip.

Frank Hurley of Lynn defeated Jack O'Dell of Boston in four chapters. Pat McLaughlin of Charleston stopped Don Young in four chapters of South Boston.

Tommy Salen of Watertown disposed of Larry Thornton of East Boston in four rounds, while Barney Baker of the West End upset Danny Sears of East Boston in four chapters.

Joe Conley of Dorchester won the decision over Dick Howard of Roxbury after four battle rounds.

Daily Health Hint for Readers
SOCALLED barber's itch is a kind of ringworm which affects the chin as a rule. It is due to a fungus and is a condition that can be readily transmitted. A physician's advice should be obtained on any eruption of the face or skin, as it may be of cancerous origin.

BEWARE OF THE UNLUCKY LOVE WHEN NOT

Serious Matter to Marry the Wrong Person

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

In Acquaintance on Problems of Love

THERE isn't any doubt that it can prove a misfortune to fall in love when one isn't ready for it.

That is, it is sometimes a serious matter to marry the wrong person. Most young people suggest that they will marry the first person who asks them to do so. They say, "I'll marry you," and then they find out that they have made a mistake.

Do you think that is a mistake? Do you think a girl or boy, here, should be so sure of herself or himself as to say, "I'll marry you," and then find out that they have made a mistake?

Take the case of a girl who has just fallen in love. She is so sure of herself that she is willing to marry the first person who asks her to do so. She is so sure of herself that she is willing to marry the first person who asks her to do so. She is so sure of herself that she is willing to marry the first person who asks her to do so.

The Marry-Go-Round

WANT TO BE TAKEN CARE OF

WAY TO BE A BIG SUCCESS

And be "taken care of."

The two parts of the above sentence may not appear to "sympathize," but they DO.

Everybody "takes care of" a man.

Very many women are divided into two classes.

One class is the "taken care of" class.

Another class is the "taker care of" class.

Some women are "taken care of" by their husbands.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fathers.

Some women are "taken care of" by their mothers.

Some women are "taken care of" by their brothers.

Some women are "taken care of" by their sisters.

Some women are "taken care of" by their friends.

Some women are "taken care of" by their neighbors.

Some women are "taken care of" by their community.

Some women are "taken care of" by their country.

Some women are "taken care of" by their world.

Some women are "taken care of" by their universe.

Some women are "taken care of" by their God.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

Some women are "taken care of" by their luck.

Some women are "taken care of" by their chance.

Some women are "taken care of" by their opportunity.

Some women are "taken care of" by their fate.

Some women are "taken care of" by their destiny.

How can you make sure about this? How can you avoid the mistake of marrying a man who is not in love with you and couldn't even learn to love? In short, it is the art of love.

Generally speaking, I should say that the bestating person isn't in love, or is perhaps merely on the road to falling in love. If you are in love, you are filled with an abundant certainty. This may be one of the first signs of love.

And another is: Are the loved person's wishes honestly more important to you than your own wishes? Do you really care more for his happiness than for your own? If, of course, is saying a great deal. This, I should say, is really the beginning and the end of love.

It is a curious thing that a wise counselor is sometimes a better judge of the state of one's heart than one oneself.

Not only does the whole love affair seem to be a world of its own, but it is a world of its own.

And an unmistakable sign, in the case of a girl, at least, is that love gives her a glowing look that is not to be mistaken for anything else. It is a charming way that nature has of seeing to it that once a girl is in love, her life is a life of beauty.

And even if, on applying these tests to yourself, you find that you do not entirely meet them, give yourself a margin of time. Love is always born at first sight.

That is, it is a charming way that nature has of seeing to it that once a girl is in love, her life is a life of beauty.

If you are not sure that you and the adoring young man are meant for each other, ask him to wait a while. You can learn to know each other better.

THE world is so full of a number of things that I'm sure I should be as gay as a king—but I'm not.

That's the very trouble—there are too many. Too many who are lovable and lovely. And so I remain a lone wolf, who ponders on his solitariness." So said Bill Bechler.

If the young man can own a gallery that he wanders in and out of, he is a king. He is a king of the "park" of Broadway compounded of "stars" electric sign, tin, silver, glass and diamonds false to lure, and the deep chairs, arms, though overfilled, are those of a king; if he can own a gallery of souvenirs, a gallery of art, glass, china, wrought with remembrance, who has an old man's "kingdom"?

Even the hotel maid, to whom a guest is entirely impersonal, makes a fine distinction. The maid always hangs up a man's pajamas and puts his toilet things in the laundry bag.

But a woman's toilet things are not so simple. They are a woman's life. They are a woman's life. They are a woman's life.

All fairy figures, the dashing, gay girl of this America in the century. Perhaps behind the other portrait is one that differs the little girl with the black pail, the most fished with brown freckles, the two "bun" (reth) and the scornful manner whom he thought best to leave beyond compare.

But the old man's gallery? It thrives with feminine figures, painted in fair hues through many "chances" of costume, from dusters and muffs and great coats, back to the girl he married in her wedding gown of mouse-gray silk, past the figure who was his own grandmother with her faded and gold embroidery, to the last day figure, smiling and bowing in pantafoes and lockers, of the little girls who played with him under the trees.

Fads and Fashions

Choosing time for gloves is quite a simple affair, since the introduction of the new leather bracelet with crystal or pearl ornaments that take the place of the ordinary strap. These bracelets are, of course, adjustable and are found mostly on sport gloves.

It's Easy to Compromise between the formal and the informal in a restaurant wear. To help you in your problem, worth shows a model of green brocade with long, light-colored sleeves and a deep décolleté at both front and back, with narrow bands of green and white bands.

The Way of All Flesh said in it is a lovely evening frock. Very new and alluring is an evening gown of flesh-colored satin with pink flowers posed at the side of the rather high waist. The bodice is set in the floor length. The neckline is rounded with a front.

The Rabbit Springs into prominence again this spring. A tailored suit of tweed in shades of gray and brown shows a deep scarlet coat of beige belt and a double-breasted blouse of matching "reps."

This Thin Band is one of beads and is to be offered for wear with polka-dotted blouse. A lovely pair of the kind is shown with a contrived neck.

Madame, you would find the unconscious in the hall with pieces of paper in his hand and a large bow alongside.

On the way, now he has a pair of the kind is shown with a contrived neck.

STOCK EXCHANGES ARE OPENING WITH A LITTLE DIFFERENCE

By FRANK H. MELSON

Financial Editor

Stock exchanges in Boston, New York and elsewhere are closed at 2:30 p. m. today while the land measures the passing of former President Taft.

First intimation of the plan for closing came over the stock exchange shortly after noon yesterday. The example followed by the "Big Board" was promptly followed by the governors of the other exchanges.

It looked as if Boston was the second to close and to close only a few minutes after the New York announcement.

When the New York stock exchange was closed, George A. Rich change was able to announce the local action of respect to the funeral of the great jurist only a few minutes after the New York announcement.

To many it seems like yesterday when the North Shore was the nation's "summer capital" with President Taft the center of attraction, always with a glad greeting, even for unannounced visitors.

The North Shore still draws the "society" element of Boston, and for some time has failed to bring a President to the Bay State for a summer stay.

Business and financial leaders as general as the country, and expansion of such property as related to making transportation as speedy as is consistent with safety. They are by no means agreed as to what factors make for safety. Even the laws of requiring auto drivers to have licenses has made no great headway.

The following table, according to the National Bank Council, now have the drivers' license laws:

FINANCIAL TRENDS OF THE DAY

Progress Slow, But Betterment Is Expected

Wall Street Banking Upon Better Second and Third Quarters

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, March 11.—March promises to add somewhat to the progress of the week, although the progress has been made.

The stock market has moved up a little since the month began, so have bonds.

The most noticeable development of the week was the extent and magnitude of the "Comm" demonstration, the effect may prove to be a serious blow to the financial world.

Perhaps Thursday's almost unanimous protest of the nation's foremost men of affairs that their achievement in the past year was the result of the rapid adoption of labor-saving methods have together human progress, which cannot be much longer covered without further serious consequences. The Reds need occasion no great worry; but unemployment will be a serious problem.

Monetary developments overshadowed industrial or commercial news. The Federal Reserve Bank was all in the right direction.

The most significant was the reduction in the Bank of England rate from 4 to 3 percent. This combined with the reduction in domestic money rates, forebodes the lowering of the New York official 4 percent rate, probably this week.

Wall Street call loans ended the week at 2 1/2 percent, and supplies were unexceptionally available at 3 percent—contrasted with 9 percent a year ago. Time money is now available at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 percent. Commercial paper is done at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 percent. Bankers' acceptances have been reduced to 3 1/2 percent for short terms and to 3 1/4 percent for longer maturities.

Although bankers have increased $20,000,000, the reduction in the 12 Reserve Banks stands at $18 per cent. The rate of increase in the rate of increase of the year ago was 100 percent. The rate of increase in the rate of increase of the year ago was 100 percent.

President Hoover's week-end optimistic statement of the country's dwindling unemployment was warmly welcomed. The more so because the week's banking and business news was not particularly encouraging.

Railway car loadings continue to show marked contraction compared with a year ago. So do bank clearings, even after making allowance for the sharp contraction in stock speculation. Retail trade reports were only so-so. The steel industry about held its own in activity, but the price line was weak.

Noting of importance came from the money market. The Federal Reserve Bank's 100 to 100,000,000 increase in the rate of increase of the year ago was 100 percent.

The stock market's action suggests that it expects the second and third quarters of the year to be better than the first quarter.

It is not regrettable that it is healthy, that the movement in stocks is not overdone. Bears are generally fighting the market movement. They bring about brief reactions, but the main movement continues forward. Very gradually the public are re-emerging from the "I'm in it" unit. This buying is not so broad as the buying in the market maintains a normal course.

Public utilities are especially well regarded for the longer term.

LEADERS' VIEWS

DETROIT, March 4.—After a decided slump in production activities during February the level of activity established in the first month of the current season appears to be again on the increase, according to Detroit economic service.

For the present month most companies have set more ambitious schedules, although it is a question of how close many of them will come to fulfilling projected activity.

With heavy inventory of finished goods in the hands of distributors and dealers alike being reduced gradually, outlook for this month is most favorable of any time so far this year. Undoubtedly much of this class of stock will go to the smaller lines, as they are able to compete with companies preferring to hold larger stocks than hold until later in the season and have to take a chance in competition with new ships.

A situation of this kind works a hardship on both producers and consumers. The business is a class of business which probably cannot be held in the hands of producers, as they are forced to reduce prices on strictly new merchandise to market their products.

The majority of new plans now being produced are still being sent to the hands of distributors, as a class of business which probably cannot be held in the hands of producers, as they are forced to reduce prices on strictly new merchandise to market their products.

Business builders from now on will report more activity than the average. The business is a class of business which probably cannot be held in the hands of producers, as they are forced to reduce prices on strictly new merchandise to market their products.
